an app that is supported by Android and iOS, making it an ideal solution for busy pet owners who wish to retain close control over their pets’ diets even when they are away from home. This degree of control helps to prevent pet obesity, a common condition that is linked to numerous health problems. The feeder is equipped with a camera that can record videos and allows owners to connect with their pets through video chat. Owners may conveniently share videos captured by the Intelligent Pet Feeder on Facebook, Twitter, WeChat, and other platforms.

All of Eyenimal’s products are developed in France and incorporate cutting-edge technology combined with intuitive design.

Prior to beginning the design process, the Eyenimal team undertakes extensive research to gain insight into the mysterious world of pets. Eyenimal’s dedication to creating superior quality pet solutions has been recognized at SuperZoo 2015 in Las Vegas and Pet Expo in Paris, where the company’s Cat Videocam won awards for best cat product. This unique camera affixes to cats’ collars and records the world through their eyes.
