Akoma Dog Products, Inc. will Introduce the Mini AC Hounditioner at SuperZoo 2016

BIG LAKE, MN: Our climate is heating up! Whether you believe that or not, Akoma Dog Products is prepared. Akoma will introduce the Hounditioner Mini Dog House Air Conditioner unit at SuperZoo 2016 that is designed to keep your dog cool even on the hottest days. The Hounditioner is a small (8" x 13" x 8"), low cost, easy to install, extremely reliable, 1400 BTU unit that will cool even the largest dog houses in the hottest summertime conditions.

The Hounditioner will be on display in Booth #6290 at the SuperZoo Show starting August 2 in Las Vegas along with the renowned Hound Heater. These two products have pet owners 100% covered when it comes to the ultimate comfort for their pets. Mike Hill, President of Akoma, said "We are excited to be introducing the new Hounditioner that is a one of a kind unit that supplies a generous flow of recirculated refrigerated air into the dog houses to reduce the temperature and remove humidity for the dogs. This is a product that has been needed by the dog industry for a long time." This small unit can be easily attached to the side of the dog house or it can be free standing with insulated flexible ducting that can supply cool air just about anywhere it is needed. Once installed all that is needed is to adjust the thermostat to the desired inside temperature and the Hounditioner will provide a comfortable environment that pet owners can rely on. It also has a handle on the top so it can be easily carried and when combined with a small portable 110V generator it will provide cool air anywhere.

The Hounditioner and the Hound Heater not only provide comfort for the animals on the Hottest and Coldest days, they also provide comfort to the owners knowing that their pets are safe. Many dogs experience heat strokes and some die each year from over heating. Dogs can handle the cold but not the heat. This can be especially true for senior dogs, puppies, over weight dogs, and dogs with respiratory or heart disease. It is very economical to operate the Hounditioner and Hound Heater so they are a wonderful addition when added to dog houses to provide the peace of mind that your pets are comfortable.

Akoma Dog Products, Inc. company has been supplying the Hound Heater and other dog products for over 15 years and is proud of the quality of their products.
