

Georgygirl Leather Comfort Harness

MADE IN THE USA

San Francisco, California: April 2013

Luxury, comfort and good design: fashion meets function.

Both of these phrases describe the new Georgygirl leather comfort harnesses made in the USA. The Georgygirl harness distributes the pull of the leash evenly over a dog's chest and shoulders so that it does not impact a dog's windpipe. Easy to put on and adjust for maximum comfort for your best friend. The first collection features 9 color choices in sturdy oil tanned leather in black, tan and brown combinations with quality hardware and silver and gold Conchos in skulls, hearts, berries, fleur de lys, turquoise medallions and stars. The Georgygirl harness is secured comfortably around the lower neck and behind the front legs of the dog. No choking or discomfort and they are dressy. Additional conchos are available and can be easily changed for a totally different look. Matching leather cuffs are available for dog owners.

When you take your best friend out, don't just show everyone how happy and healthy they are, show them that you care enough to find the best luxury accessories and take them out looking good and feeling comfortable.
