ANGELS GROOMING APPAREL REVEALS NEW GROOMING JACKET AT SUPERZOO 2018

Carson, CA – Angels Grooming Apparel, debuts “Sophia” a new grooming jacket with a fresh design: the mandarin collar. A style that was featured at New York, London, Milan and Paris Fashion Weeks.

The “Sophia” is made from a two-way stretch taffeta, combining luxury with a flexible fit and features groomer specific details, which is synonymous with the Angels Grooming Apparel range. Angels Grooming Apparel was the first in the industry to offer high quality grooming jackets with a mesh back.

Owner, Angelina Lalau elaborates, “We really wanted to build upon the success of our Camilla Grooming Jacket. Groomers love the fitted look with the added flexibility built in. The mandarin collar makes it on trend for 2018. The jacket includes all those useful features for grooming: a high quality large zipper, pockets to the side rather than the front and of course the breathable mesh back.”

The “Sophia” comes in hot pink and black, sizes XS to 3X and is available to pre-order at SuperZoo 2018.

Visit Angels Grooming Apparel Booth 817 to see the “Sophia”, show specials and the rest of the Angels Grooming Apparel range.
