

For Immediate Release: May 29, 2018

Contact: Kat Donatello
(207) 451-7437
kat@austinandkat.com

Austin and Kat™ CBD Wellness Pet Products Use the Very Best Ingredients for a Wholesome CBD Pet Wellness Solution

Seattle based company Austin and Kat™, purveyor of CBD wellness biscuits for dogs, recently added CBD oils to their product line for all furry friends - cats included!

It all began in Kat's home kitchen in 2014, with the simple desire to make a supplemental CBD wellness product for her aging Duck Tolling Retriever, Brady. He creaked, moved slowly, and some mornings he decided to simply stay put.

"I was trying different nutritional supplements to help keep him active and happy, but I kept coming across articles that had a common theme: recent innovation in a naturally occurring component of hemp called cannabidiol (CBD). It was proving to have significant benefits for dogs, especially aging ones," she says of the experiment. After much trial and error, she finally baked up a product good enough that owners would readily dole out to their pets (and that pets would desire to eat). It's also the first product that truly demonstrated the benefits of CBD added to a furry family member's routine.

The biscuits and oils contain a proprietary blend of non-psychoactive cannabinoids derived from agricultural hemp stalks and seeds. CBD has been shown to exhibit dramatic benefits for both dogs (and cats), especially within the scope of inflammation, pain, sleep, stress and anxiety, appetite, overall well-being and mood.

Austin and Kat™ doesn't fail to remember its very humble start. Their CBD wellness product lineup is all created by hand, in small batches, using the very best all natural, gluten free, and locally sourced ingredients.

Infused with full spectrum CBD, coconut oil, oats, apples, peanut butter, cinnamon and tumeric, Austin and Kat™ CBD wellness biscuits are tasty and have been shown to ease pain, calm inflammation, and quell anxiety. Currently offered are both 5mg and 2mg biscuit sizes that are each specifically dosed for your pet's weight.

Austin and Kat™ CBD hemp oil is packed full of Omega 3 and 6 for health and a taste all pets love. Naturally occurring full spectrum CBD, wild alaskan salmon oil and hemp seed oil are combined to support proper joint function, heart health, and skin/coat condition while also enhancing the immune system. The oil is a useful supplement for those pets who may have difficulty consuming the biscuits, or for cats; and just like the biscuits, the oils also assist in pain management, inflammation, and anxiety. Austin and Kat™ CBD hemp oil is offered in 100mg bottles (for dogs and cats) and 300mg bottles (for dogs).

All Austin and Kat™ CBD products undergo third party testing to ensure consistency and purity. Without any side effects, it's a welcome and fulfilling addition to any pet's diet.

Though Brady continued to age, with Kat's biscuits he was able to enjoy a more active stretch of his golden years free from the lethargy that was plaguing him.

"It wasn't that his life had been extended, but that his enjoyment and quality of life was much higher," Kat says. Ever since, helping people have happier, healthier, and calmer pets has been her mission. Kat's young lab, Austin, loves the treats just as much and has experienced a shinier coat, quicker recovery after long runs and hikes, and an even-keeled temperament. He also takes his job as chief product tester (and namesake) very seriously.

For more information email kat@austinandkat.com or visit austinandkat.com